

10th March 2023

Re: Academic Reference for Jess Gray

Jess is an exceptional student. She is highly committed and organized in her study and this excellent approach has resulted in her achieving consistent high A grades in classroom tests. The time and effort that she puts into her studies means she is developing excellent subject knowledge and understanding. Jess has to balance her academic study with her training schedule which makes her achievement even more impressive. Jess communicates well with both her peers and teachers, asking for clarification if needed. Jess is a positive and sociable student who makes a great contribution to the classroom environment. Jess is able to carry out experiments and use apparatus to take measurements and works well with groups of all sizes. She is then able to independently interpret the data and draw conclusions.

I would not hesitate to recommend Jess for a course of further study and feel she would find great success.

Teacher of Biology and Environmental Science

The Henley College

The Henley College
Deanfield Avenue
Henley-on-Thames
RG9 1UH
Tel: (01491) 579988