Dear Sir/Madam

Rebecca is a capable, diligent and motivated young woman who has demonstrated her prowess in her academic and athletic spheres. Rebecca has excellent planning and organisational skills ensuring that she is able to train and compete whilst studying three challenging A level subjects.

In terms of her sporting ability, Rebecca is an exceptional footballer who plays for the Reading WFC Under 21 squad. In addition, Rebecca also plays football for Ascot United Under 18 girls, training two evenings a week and competing in the top division of the Junior Premier League at weekends. She was awarded most improved player by them in the summer of 2023.

At Great Marlow School Rebecca was captain for the girls' football team from Year 7 through to Year 11; she currently coaches and referees for the school U13 girls' team. Rebecca is not only a footballer, but has also represented the school in hockey (field and indoor), handball, tennis, badminton, athletics and rounders. She was awarded the KS4 PE award and nominated for KS4 Sports Personality. Rebecca also enjoys music and plays the drums; she is currently working towards Grade 6.

Academically, Rebecca is very able. This is borne out by her impressive set of GCSE grades and her most recent set of progress reports at A level. She has an excellent attitude towards her studies and is always willing to apply herself to enable her chances of attaining the highest grades of which she is capable. It is so pleasing to see a student who sets such high standards in different disciplines and is able to maintain a positive and determined attitude towards her success in both.

Rebecca's ambition is to go into physiotherapy, exercise physiology or a similar allied health profession and, to this end, she has applied for work experience at Stoke Mandeville hospital in February 2024. If she is successful in securing a place, it will provide experience across a range of allied health professions. Rebecca hopes to major in subjects that will help to lead her down this career path.

Rebecca is a calm, assured person and sets about her sport and studies in a studious and unflappable manner. She is polite, well-mannered whilst possessed of a quiet strength and belief in her abilities. She is extremely motivated and manages her time effectively between her athletic commitments and her academic studies.

I highly recommend Rebecca to study at your university as I believe that she will prove a great asset.

Yours faithfully

Mr O Hollyman
