To whom it may concern,

I am delighted to recommend Bella Holland to you as one of our finest young women, an outstanding student athlete, and a responsible and compassionate member of our community.

I first met Bella last year as she was undertaking her GCSE study in a local school. She immediately struck me with her intelligence, her vision and ambition for her future. It was clear, even then, that her desire was to head across to America to pursue a college education and an outstanding football programme. After reviewing her ability on the pitch, she was offered a football scholarship to the school and now plays regularly for our elite academy (a team which has won consecutive national titles).

But Bella is much more than this - she believes strongly in the power of education and opted to study Psychology alongside the BTEC in Sport (whereas many of our students solely study the BTEC). This reflected a growing maturity and personal sense of pride in challenging herself in every area and she has excelled this year at the beginning of the course. Never afraid to ask for support, she is pushing herself to be the very best version of herself.

On top of this, she is keen to give back to the community that supports her. She came with me to a recruitment event and spoke so eloquently to younger students about the opportunities Rossall can give, showing a commitment and dedication to excellence. Although in the very early stages of her Sixth Form career here, she could not have made a better start and we are very proud of what she has achieved thus far. We recommend her to you most highly.

Yours sincerely,

Mr N Crombie
